BUTTERFLY MEET 2024

BHORAMDEV WILDLIFE SANCTUARY : A HAVEN FOR WILDLIFE

Nestled amidst verdant greenery in the Kawardha (Kabirdham) district of Chhattisgarh, lies the Bhoramdev Wildlife Sanctuary. Established in 2001, this sanctuary sprawls over an impressive 352 square kilometers and boasts a rich tapestry of natural & prehistoric features.

A CRUCIAL ECOLOGICAL CORRIDOR

The sanctuary forms a vital link between Kanha National Park in Madhya Pradesh & Achanakmar Tiger Reserve in Chhattisgarh. This corridor facilitates the free movement of wildlife between these protected areas, contributing to the overall health & genetic diversity of their resident animal populations. The shared history of this corridor is reflected in the similarities observed among the species found in both Kanha & Bhoramdev.

MORE THAN JUST WILDLIFE

Bhoramdev Sanctuary holds cultural significance as well. It draws its name from the Bhoramdev Temple, a site revered for its architectural beauty & often referred to as the "Khajuraho of Chhattisgarh." This unique combination of natural wonders and cultural heritage makes Bhoramdev a truly special place.
